Career Opportunities and Salaries

Nurses primarily work in hospital facilities, doctor's offices, free-standing/outpatient clinics, schools, psychiatric facilities, nursing homes, and for home health and hospice agencies.

Jobs include staff nurse, case manager, educator, clinical nurse specialist, and charge nurse/nurse manager.

Nursing salaries vary from region to region, state to state, and job to job. However, an Associate Degree Registered Nurse can make on average between sixty and eighty thousand ($60,000 - $80,000) a year.

Technical Skills

Nursing is a vibrant profession that is forever changing. Nurses of today must possess the skills to utilize computer based, precise, high tech, medical equipment.

Nurses must be knowledgeable, accountable workers who have the ability to analyze and synthesize data. They must also be prepared to care for patients who need specialized and sophisticated care.
